

DEWEY PRUETT JR.
Funeral services for Dewey Pruet, Jr., 49, of Texarkana, who died Wednesday, were held Friday at Herndon Chapel by the Rev. Gerald Trussell. Burial was in Shell Cemetery at Emel by Herndon.

Surviving are his wife, Kathryn Betsy Pruet, three sons, Howard and Billy Pruet, both of U.S. Army and Dewey Pruet, of Houston; a daughter, Mrs. Joyce McLain of Houston and a sister, Mrs. Pauline Clark of Corpus Christi, Texas.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Samuel J. Briskin, vice president of Columbia Pictures, died Thursday at the University of Los Angeles Medical Center. He was 71. Briskin was in charge of RKO studios for two years before World War II and formed Liberty Films, Inc., bought later by Paramount.

HANOVER, Pa. (AP) — William H. "Wee Willie" Sherdel, the mighty mite of his National League pitching era who helped the St. Louis Cardinals win baseball pennants in 1926 and 1928, died Thursday at 72. His best season was 1928 when he had a 21-10 record.

MENDOCINO, Calif. (ZAP) — Eleanor Kerns Philby, former wife of British diplomat Harold "Kim" Philby, who defected to Russia in 1963 with NATO secrets, died Thursday of cancer. Her first husband was New York Times newsman Sam Pope Brewer. Mrs. Philby was the author of "The Spy I Married," published earlier this year.

foreign affairs with the full authority of the incoming administration.

At a news conference in New York Thursday he said Johnson had agreed to consult him before making any significant moves.

But Nixon also said that for the United States to speak to other countries with a single voice it would be necessary for the President-elect to agree to a course of action.

This seemed to indicate Nixon was reserving the right to withhold his agreement.

The White House was unexpectedly brief in its reaction to the Nixon statement. A spokesman said only the President's power had not been "diluted."

This seemed to indicate the President was reserving the right to take any action he considers necessary.

Commenting on the prospect of disagreement, Nixon said he and Johnson "did not discuss that precisely."

One evident result of the agreement is to increase Johnson's effective power in the conduct of foreign relations during the next two months. Otherwise, he would be limited substantially to commitments that he could fulfill in the time remaining to him as president.

Another result which Nixon apparently hopes for may well be to speed up the Vietnamese peace negotiations as compared with the pace they would probably follow if there was no assured continuity of U.S. policy.

Nixon made clear in campaign speeches he considered settlement of the war—or at least de-Americanization of the conflict—a priority objective for the next administration.

His emphasis on seeking to rebuild unity in this country and on shifting the focus of foreign affairs from Asia to Europe suggests that if President Johnson does have a chance to conclude a peace settlement in the next two months Nixon will do everything he can to assist.

Nixon is represented as confident that President Johnson will not make a major foreign policy move which he does not approve.

about it. You probably soon will. If you haven't caught up with the Joneses, you decide you don't really like their style of living—so why try to keep up with them?

You no longer are tempted to grow a beard—you realize it would come out gray or a mottled white.

At the office the boss doesn't expect you to come up with a new world-shaking idea every day. One new world-shaking idea a year will keep you on the payroll nicely.

Slowly but steadily you turn from a tarnished sinner into a varnished saint as you lose the energy to pursue old bad habits and the desire to acquire new ones. The possibility emerges that you may yet become the kind of man your mother hoped you'd be.

Yep, those are the rewards of middle age, and though they may not be breathtaking they are worth having. The thing about middle age is—if you don't make the best of it, it will make the worst of you.

question of what will happen if he and Johnson differ on some foreign policy undertaking between now and the inauguration Jan. 20. He disclaimed any veto power over policies of the Democratic administration. But he made clear that he expects nothing to happen over his objection. Nixon said that in his policy, there is no disagreement between the incoming and outgoing presidents on "broad general policy outlines."

He added at a Thursday news conference: "I think President Johnson is keenly aware of the fact that it would be very difficult for him to make any kind of an agreement on a major policy matter unless he could give assurance to the parties on the other side that it would be implemented and respected by the next president."

Nixon indicated that the machinery of the agreement went into operation when he was at the White House Monday. He said the discussions there covered Vietnam, a statement to be made by the United States at the NATO conference and "other matters that are not currently in the news."

While the emphasis of Nixon's foreign policy arrangement seemed to be the Vietnam war and negotiations, the President-elect said it covers all areas of foreign affairs. He said if an area of formal foreign commitment should arise, for example, talks with the Soviet Union on anti-missile defenses, "I would expect to sit down personally with the President."

Murphy, Nixon's man at the State Department, is the 74 year old chairman of Corning Glass International. He spent 39 years in the foreign service and was under secretary of state for political affairs during the administration of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Murphy described himself in the title of his memoirs as "Diplomat Among Warriors," the description of a man who was a top civilian among the generals and admirals in World War II. He was in Paris in 1940 watching the Nazis enter the city, in North Africa in 1942 preparing the landing of American troops, and with Eisenhower at Supreme Allied Headquarters from 1943 until the end of the war.

The years after the war were not too peaceful for Murphy either. Between 1945 and 1949 he was the top political adviser to American military governors in Germany and, in this capacity, played a major role in masterminding the Berlin airlift.

In 1954 he negotiated the settlement of the Trieste problem with Yugoslavia's Premier Tito and in 1958 President Eisenhower hurriedly dispatched him to

Showers Are General in Arkansas

Showers and thunderstorms are expected to continue to blanket Arkansas through Saturday as a complicated set of low and high pressure systems box the state.

A large high pressure system is located east of the state and a stationary cold front stretches west. Both systems have created strong southerly winds that has brought warm and moist air into the state.

The low pressure system in North Texas today is expected to drift northeastward into eastern Oklahoma and western Arkansas through Saturday, causing increased showers.

Temperatures will remain mild over the area through Saturday with the high Saturday in the 70s.

Rainfall reported in Arkansas in the 24-hour period that ended at 6:30 a.m. today was scattered with the greatest amount .04 inches at Harrison.

Low temperatures reported around Arkansas this morning ranged from 57 degrees at Fayetteville to 65 at Texarkana.

Highs reported Thursday ranged from 63 at Fayetteville and Harrison to 76 at Little Rock.

OEO Bigwigs Probe U of A Compliance

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Six federal officials visited the University of Arkansas Thursday to investigate the institution's compliance with Title VI of the 1964 Civil Rights Act. The officials, representing the Office of Economic Opportunity, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare and the General Services Administration, studied housing, counseling, financial aid, athletics, administration and faculty and fraternities and sororities.

A spokesman said results of the study would not be made public. He said the team of officials would visit all four-year institutions and one junior college in the state.

Suit Charges Punishment Discriminatory

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A suit has been filed in federal District Court charging that disciplinary action in the Carthage School District in Dallas County is not the same for Negro students as it is for white students.

The suit was filed Thursday by the parents of 17 Negro pupils in the district.

The suit said expulsion or suspension from school was being used only to discipline Negro students "although white pupils present similar disciplinary problems. It also contends that Negroes in the upper three grades had been subjected to corporal punishment, but that white students in the same grades had not."

The suit asks for an injunction to halt any unequal disciplinary action and to forbid corporal punishment without the consent of the student's parents.

The parents also asked the court to order the school board to adopt "fair standards" for punishing students.

Suspension of Negro Protested

NEW YORK (AP) — The suspension of 30 Negro students from Jonesboro, Ark., High School will be protested in the courts.

The Legal Defense and Education Funds of the NAACP said Thursday that John Walker, a Little Rock attorney, would file a suit in federal court on behalf of the students.

The fund said the suit is to ask the court to prevent harassment of students and enjoin school officials from preventing peaceful protests.

The students were suspended for five days for protesting the playing of "Dixie" at a pep rally Nov. 1. The students walked out when the song was played, School Supt. Clarence Geis said at the time of the incident that students aren't allowed to demonstrate.

Three girl students were suspended for the day Nov. 1 at El Dorado in a similar protest against "Dixie."

Sentence Has Changed Attitude

BOSTON (AP) — David P. O'Brien, 21, a draft card burner who lost his appeal to the Supreme Court, had his six-month jail sentence remitted Wednesday for a "change of attitude."

O'Brien of Cambridge, Mass., who burned his draft card on the steps of the South Boston District Court in 1966, had served two months.

Le repeated Hanoi's protests against American reconnaissance flights over North Vietnam and said two such planes have been shot down since Nov. 2. He described as "an impudent provocation" the American intention to launch rescue operations inside North Vietnam to recover U.S. airmen shot down on such missions.

Le told questioners the expanded peace talks should start "without further delay." If Saigon chooses to boycott the talks, it could join them later, he added.

But he repeated that Hanoi is not prepared to come to the conference table without a separate delegation representing the NFL.

He said North Vietnam never agreed to a "two-sided" conference with the United States alone and is not prepared to consider such a conference.

Wells Insists He Hasn't Conceded

CONWAY, Ark. (AP) — Bill Wells, the Democratic nominee for lieutenant governor, said Thursday he has not conceded his close race with Republican Maurice Britt.

Unofficial tabulations show Britt leading Wells by about 3,000 votes.

Wells also said he believed Republican Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller had defeated Marion H. Crank, the Democratic gubernatorial nominee, because the GOP made the "old guard" label stick.

Charles D. Matthews of North Little Rock, the chairman of the state Democratic party, made a similar statement recently. Wells said he would not be ashamed to be identified with the "old guard," but that he was not a member of the group. He also said he did not think his political career had ended.

"I feel that I can safely say that I am not through politically and that I will be back to see the people of Arkansas again," Wells said.

First Negro Legislator

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Joe Lang Kershaw, who as a college student held a part-time janitor's job in the state Capitol, has been sworn in as the first Negro legislator in Florida since Reconstruction.

Kershaw, a 57-year-old junior high school civics teacher from Miami, won his race against a white opponent by about 60,000 votes. There are about 60,000 registered Negroes in Dade County out of a total registration of 465,000.

Being the lone Negro in a 119-member House won't be a hindrance in Kershaw's view: "I think politics is the art of compromise. I won't be able to get all I want, but I'll get some of it."

Didn't Like Substitutes

ANCONA, Italy (AP) — Patients at a mental hospital here couldn't take the substitute nurses any more so they broke beds, windows and doors, then knocked down the main gates and fled into the streets.

Striking nurses picketing outside the gates ran after the patients and hit one.

There were reports the patients had been forced to eat from unwashed dishes since the regular nurses struck Sunday for higher wages. The breaking point came Wednesday when one of the substitute nurses reproached a group of patients.

More than 100 inmates threw mattresses and bed clothes out of the window, smashed cupboards and tore the barred screens from the windows. The relief nurses fled in terror.

Defiance of Catholic Ban

LONDONDERRY, Northern Ireland (AP) — Leaders of Londonderry's Roman Catholic minority called for a march through ancient walls around the center of the city Friday in defiance of a government ban.

A similar march last month touched off three days of riots in which 85 persons were injured.

The march was called to publicize charges that the Protestant-dominated city council discriminates against Roman Catholics in jobs and housing.

HELEN HELP US!

IT'S THE WOMAN WHO PAYS—THE GROCERY BILL

Dear Helen: My husband can't believe groceries cost as much as they do. He gives me $20.00 a week for all food bills and, as we have two children, I can't make it stretch.

When I run out of money by about Friday, I must humbly beg for more and he gets mad and throws it on the table. He says we'll never save money to buy a house if I'm so extravagant, and the fur flies.

He isn't terribly cheap on other matters. We have a nice car and a good vacation each year. Why can't he see it costs to eat too?—T.Y.

Dear T: Why don't you turn grocery shopping over to your husband for a month? Or at least invite him along as you buy. Unless he is partial to beans, hamburger and powdered milk, he'll soon up the ante—I hope!—H.

Dear Helen: I read how television is influencing our young people—how violence in large doses may be catching; how children become alienated because they are glued to the tube and not communicating with parents—and I wonder whose children they mean?

My kids don't have time for much TV, and neither do any of their friends! They have one of two favorite programs a week—and these are the laugh shows, not violence. When younger, they watched Saturday morning cartoons. If nothing better came up. As teenagers, they are constantly reminding us old folks that we overdo television and it's "the opiate of the masses," that adults watch TV at least three times as do the kids. What do you think, Helen?—DOTTY

Dear Dot: I've never seen a comprehensive survey on child vs. adult TV viewing habits but I agree with you that busy young people aren't as addicted as their parents. They're more selective about programs and they often choose records over the tube. I doubt television has as much influence on our children as sociologists and psychologists sometimes think.—H.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — By order of the Nielsen ratings, seven and one-half television programs will be cut off the networks in midseason. During January and February, seven new candidates will be put in the schedules. It's the annual turn over.

Until a couple of seasons back, a midseason start was something to be dreaded—and with good reason. Almost none had ever survived through the following September. But now, with the two hottest entries of the past two years—"The Smothers Brothers Comedy Hour" on CBS and "Rowan and Martin's Laugh-In" on NBC—the most talked about shows on the air, a midseason start is something to be cherished. They both started that way.

ABC, which this season is having more program troubles than the other two networks, is dropping five shows and cutting its weekly output of "Peyton Place" in half. In an effort to bolster its ratings, it is taking on a half-hour show by the producers of "Laugh-In" plus an hour show by the team that first produced the Smothers Brothers show. The network obviously hopes lightning will strike it, too.

ABC's massive realignment of its Thursday night schedule involves canceling a suspense anthology, "Journey to the Unknown" that never caught on, and a comedy series, "Ugliest Girl in Town" that misfired. It is a salvage operation for three of its comedy shows, "The Flying Nun," "Bewitched" and "That Girl." The block of three once permitted ABC to capture the top ratings of Thursday nights, but all three have suffered this season. It is hoped they will be returned to Nielsen health by opening the evening with "The Flying Nun," following with the Mario Thomas series—which will get it out of the path of CBS's powerful movie feature—and let "Bewitched" alone. Then will come the new revue show, "What's it All About, World?" for an hour, after which ABC will turn the final hour of prime time back to its affiliated stations to program.

Leaving NBC's Dean Martin and the movie-to-fight-it-out-for audience favor.

Nothing was doing very well for ABC on Friday nights, so the network decided to drop the first three shows of the evening. It will replace "Operation: Entertainment" with a variety hour starring Welsh singer Tom Jones and fill the holes left by departing "Felony Squad" and "The Don Rickles Show" with a couple of inexpensive game shows.

"Peyton Place" has been rapidly running out of steam this season, so it will be cut to one episode a week. The Wednesday night spot will be filled by a half-hour show, "Section 8," which will hopefully be somewhere left of "Laugh-In" and right of "That Was The Week That Was."

"My Friend Tony" is replacing "The Beautiful Phyllis Diller Show" on NBC, and the "The Glen Campbell Show" is taking over from "Daktari" on CBS.

First Whale, Hopes It Is His Last

NEW YORK (AP) — "This was my first whale and I hope it's my last one."

That was the reaction of Tom O'Toole Thursday as he finished supervising the crew which maneuvered the main section of the American Museum of Natural History's new whale into place.

The museum is replacing its old whale—a 76-foot plaster model of a blue whale that went on display in 1908—with a brand new, up-to-date model, 94 feet long and weighing 21,000 pounds.

The new whale which has a steel skeleton covered with Polystyrene foam and Fiberglas—took nearly two years to build. It is being placed in the Hall of Ocean Life, the museum's largest exhibit hall. The 28-foot tall section will be put in place Friday and the nose will be added next week.

Dr. Richard GM Van Gelder, chairman of the museum's department of mammalogy, said the old whale was being replaced because of knowledge acquired since its construction. For example, he said, the old whale did not bulge properly and its eyes were not protruberant.

The whale—which will go on view to the public Feb. 26—was modeled on the dimensions of a female blue whale killed in the 1920's in the Antarctic.

Actress Stars in Knits

By JUDY LOVE

Handknits play leading roles on the fashion scene—and some knits have a special star quality.

This trim suit certainly has it, and that's why it's worn by actress Joan Bennett.

Miss Bennett's fashion sense has served her well during her exciting career. Now starring in the daytime television drama, "Dark Shadows," she has appeared in over 70 motion pictures—from "Little Women" to "Father of the Bride." She has costarred with the likes of Ronald Colman, Spencer Tracy and Gregory Peck as a leading lady of fashion.

Miss Bennett's preference for daytime clothes that combine comfort and glamor was the guideline for this suit, designed for her and all knitters who want mature, sophisticated patterns.

The suit is flattering to a wide range of sizes—from slender sizes to the fuller figure. The three-color pattern, knit in Bernat's Nylol Sports yarn, forms tiny checks that are a smart fashion choice, especially for larger sizes. Short sleeves, a gently shaped A-line skirt and the short trim jacket add up to a style that is especially smart for the grown-up personality.

Knitting instructions for this suit should satisfy just about everyone. The instructions are given for sizes 10 to 16, plus 38, 40 and 42.

Square Actress Digs New York

By DICK KLEINER

NEA Hollywood Correspondent

Call it The Sunshine Trap. On the map it's southern California, but it's a trap for Kathryn Hayes.

She's the elegantly beautiful actress who was a regular on The Road West last season. Charlton Heston's leading lady in "Counterpoint" and in an endless series of television shows and Broadway plays. She'd rather live and work in New York, but—

"I'm a square," she says. "I really don't fit in this town. I don't know if I fit in anywhere, but surely not here. I feel much more comfortable in New York—the people there are more regular, less phony."

"But I'm here because my 10-year-old daughter, Sherri, likes it here. And because I moved my parents out here last November from Illinois and bought them a house, and they're happy here, too."

Being a self-admitted square, she's found lots to object to in this definitely round town. There was, for example, the actor she worked with in a big picture who thought "that anything in skirts was fair game, and every time he saw me he'd bend me backwards double and kiss me."

"I expect people to act like gentlemen," Kathy says, "and here there are many who don't."

Nashville, Hope Rivalry Is Old One

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer

It's been three long years since the Hope Bobcats have put together a two-game winning streak, but the Cats get another chance tonight as underdogs against the Nashville Scrappers at 7:30 p.m. in Nashville's Homecoming game.

The Hope-Nashville rivalry is one full of history and tradition, and one of those customs has been for the favored school to have a rough time pulling out the win if they are victorious at all.

Nashville has denied that point in the last three years as favorites, having held on to win by such margins as 27-0, 19-7, or 27-13 as last year. This time, though, the Scrappers aren't the overpowering machine that they were for so long, and they are out of the District 7-A championship race. That title will be decided tonight as the Prescott Curley Wolves meet the Ashdown Panthers with the winner taking the trophy.

On offense the Bobcats could show a few new wrinkles tonight, though no radical changes are expected. Most likely the Cats will come out as usual and try to establish a good running game before opening up any passing attack.

For the defense this week no changes were made, and it will be the effectiveness of such key performers as Mickey Allen, Jim Singleton, Larry McWilliams, and Rodney Jones that will determine how reckless Nashville's backs will be able to handle themselves.

The Scrappers' outstanding speed and depth will be hard to stop in the early going anyway, but the Hope defense plans to wear them down as the game moves on. If the Nashville rushing attack is ineffective in any way, then their chances will lessen because of only a fair passing game to back them up.

Up to now both teams have done all they can possibly do, and that is to get themselves keyed up emotionally as high as possible and be ready to play. Each team will try to play ball control, and so the kicking game will play a major part in the outcome.

Here the Bobcats take a lead with the punting of David Still, and this should swing the tide in Hope's favor. It will likely take a second half comeback, but the Big Cats will put a tough one 19-14 to make the long winter a little shorter.

Cal Coach Says Oregon State Best

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

College football's version of the run for the roses comes up Saturday when top-rated Southern California and O. J. Simpson entertain 13th-ranked Oregon State and Bill "Earthquake" Eynart with the winners going to the Rose Bowl.

"Oregon State is a better team than California," says Coach John McKay, whose unbeaten Trojans trimmed the ranked Golden Bears 35-17 last weekend. "They're a veteran team and probably the biggest team in the country."

The nationally televised Simpson-Eynart duel should be something to see. Simpson is second nationally in rushing with 1,211 yards and 17 touchdowns while Eynart, a line-busting fullback, has 1,038 yards and 13 TDs.

"Eynart doesn't have great speed but he has quick feet," notes McKay. "You've got to tackle him head-on. You can't get him from the side and expect to keep him from getting four or five yards. Maybe he's not a great runner but he's a real good one behind an offensive line that averages something like 245 pounds, and that includes the ends."

"And their quarterback, Steve Preece, is by far the best we've seen in recent years at running the option."

The Beavers are the only team to beat Simpson—3-0 last year—in his two seasons at Southern Cal.

The nation's ranking teams will be involved in a raft of games that will go a long way toward deciding the conference races and the bowl picture.

While Oregon State-Southern Cal will settle the Pacific Eight, there are three key contests in the Big Ten and two each in the Big Eight, Southeastern and Southwest Conferences.

Unbeaten and second-ranked Ohio State visits Iowa, which has developed an explosive offense with Larry Lawrence at quarterback and Ed Podolak at halfback, where he set a one-game Big Ten rushing mark a week ago.

The Buckeyes are tied for the Big Ten lead with fourth-ranked Michigan, and 19th-ranked Indiana is only one game back. Michigan will be at home against winless Wisconsin while Indiana hosts in-and-out Minnesota. The big one is Michigan-Ohio State next weekend.

Missouri, ranked sixth, leads the Big Eight by a game but must tackle rugged Oklahoma on the road. The Sooners, led by Steve Owens, the country's No. 5 runner, topped previously unbeaten Kansas into second place a week ago. Seventh-ranked Kansas also is on the road at Kansas State.

The key Southeastern games are fifth-ranked Georgia at 12th-ranked Auburn and Mississippi at No. 11 Tennessee. Auburn, on the strength of three straight upsets, leads with a 3-0 record, while Georgia is 4-0-1, Mississippi 3-1 and Tennessee 1-1-1.

The perennial Southwest scramble finds eighth-ranked Texas, 10th-ranked Arkansas, Southern Methodist and Texas Tech at the top with 4-1 records. Texas is at Texas Christian in a night game, Arkansas entertains SMU at Little Rock and Texas Tech visits Baylor.

Penn State, the nation's only unbeaten major independent, takes its third-place ranking and second-ranked rushing defense to Maryland. Notre Dame, ranked ninth, faces Georgia Tech at home without Terry Hanratty, lost for the season with a knee injury. Sophomore Joe Theismann takes over.

Television fans are in for a doubleheader. Besides Oregon State-Southern Cal, ABC-TV will air a night game featuring 16th-ranked Alabama and Miami, Fla., in the Orange Bowl.

26-point scoring spurge in the second half.

Detroit capitalized from the free throw line in the fourth period and withstood a late Phoenix surge in outlasting the Suns. The Pistons, limited to only four baskets in the last stanza, completed 14 of 18 foul shots while Phoenix hit on just two of seven from the free throw line.

Dave Bing and Happy Hairston shared scoring laurels for Detroit with 23 points apiece while Carl Goodrich topped Phoenix with 25.

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — The fans shot better than the players in an American Hockey League game between the Providence Reds and the Rochester Americans Wednesday night.

Players shoot for an opening in the net, 4 feet high and 6 feet wide. The Reds lost, 8-1.

Pork-SMU Game Tops in Area

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The frantic four will be no more Saturday after the dust settles in the feature Southwest Conference football battle of the day—Arkansas versus Southern Methodist in Little Rock.

Arkansas, SMU, Texas and Texas Tech are all snarled with 4-1 records—the way it's been for two weeks.

Something has got to give at Little Rock in the regionally televised match that features two pass-happy clubs. A loss will virtually eliminate either team from SWC consideration. So would a tie.

Coach Hayden Fry of SMU sizes the game up this way: "Arkansas is famous for its November finish. And here we are meeting Arkansas in November. Also, we haven't beaten Arkansas in four years."

"Arkansas has great passing and good running and is better balanced offensively than Texas, which depends largely on its running. We can match them on passing because I don't think there's a better one anywhere than my Chuck Hixson. But they probably have a better running attack. We have to depend largely on one man—Mike Richardson—and he's a good one but Arkansas has several fine runners."

Arkansas has an excellent sophomore quarterback in Bill Montgomery and a fine stable of running backs.

It will be the 44th meeting between the schools. SMU leads overall 21-20-2, but Arkansas has won nine of the past 10 games.

SMU has an overall record of 6-2 and Arkansas is 7-1.

Numerous scouts from various bowls are expected to be on hand for the game before a sellout crowd of some 53,000. Texas Tech takes its Cotton Bowl hopes to Waco to meet the dangerous Baylor Bears.

The explosive Red Raiders have an all-around attack featuring the quarterbacking of Joe Matulich and Tom Sawyer. Baylor relies on sophomore quarterback Steve Stuart for most of its firepower.

"Anytime you play a team with a great passing attack, you face the danger of catching them with a hot hand, and that could be disastrous," says Red Raider coach J. T. King.

Texas rides into Fort Worth Saturday where TCU hasn't defeated the Longhorns since 1958. A crowd in excess of 40,000 is expected.

The Longhorns have the SWC's all-time leading rusher in Chris Gilbert. But you can't key on him because of bullish Steve Worster, Ted Koy and slick junior quarterback James Street, who also make up the Longhorn backfield.

TCU is hurting going into the game. Halfback Ross Montgomery, who was hospitalized Sunday after taking a hard blow to the ribs in the Tech game, is doubtful. Also doubtful is fullback Nman rb uech who injured an ankle at Louisiana State that puts most of the offensive burden on sophomore quarterback Ted Fay.

The other SWC tussle finds Rice visiting Texas A&M for the first time since 1956. Rice is winless and the Aggies have only defeated TCU and Tulane this season. A crowd of 32,000 expected in Kyle Field to see duel between A&M quarterback Edd Hargett and Rice Quarterback Bobby Shelton.

Tigers Are Favored Over Texarkana

ARTHUR MAXWELL and
BEN PERKINS
Yerger Sportswriters

The Yerger Tigers will go into their game Friday night a slight 6 point favorite over Texarkana Washington.

The Tigers want to win this game because this is their last. The Tigers have improved considerably from last year when they finished with a 2-6-1 record. This year they have racked up victories over Lewisville 32-13, Arkadelphia 19-7, Scott 47-0, Prescott 38-0, Atlanta 32-6, and DeQueen 6-0. The only teams who have kept the Tigers from having a perfect record are Ashdown who defeated them 7-0 and Nashville who tied them 20-20. Through their eight games the Tigers have scored a remarkable 174 points while giving up only 53 points on defense. The Tigers defense is having one of its best seasons ever. The defensive unit of the Tigers is led by two line-backers David Denton and Chris Hindman, who each average 15 tackle a game. They, along with the rest of the Tigers, have been practicing hard this week for their grand finale. After this game, most of the Tigers will hang up their high school football cleats and begin to concentrate on playing in college.

Rick Barry Just Keeps on Scoring

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

With the American Basketball Association season only about one month old, the Oakland Oaks are threatening to romp off with the Western Division title behind Rick Barry, the former National Basketball Association star who jumped leagues.

Barry increased his ABA scoring lead with 43 points Thursday night and powered the visiting Oaks to a 122-106 rout of last place Dallas for their 12th victory in 14 games this season. No other team in the division is above .500.

Los Angeles and Denver each retained a share of second place with 4-4 records as the Stars downed the New York Nets 113-104 in Commack, N.Y., and the Rockets stopped Houston 105-89 at Denver in the only other games scheduled.

In the NBA Cincinnati defeated the New York Knicks 110-101 and Detroit edged Phoenix 111-109.

Barry pumped in 19 of his points in the first quarter when Oakland jumped to a big lead. Dallas never caught up, although it did get within four twice in the third period behind the scoring of Ron Boone, who finished with 26 points.

Mustangs Go Out for Confusion

By HARRY KING
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The intention of SMU's Mustangs is to confuse.

They move around on defense and attack from several offensive formations. Against SMU, the unexpected is expected.

Arkansas will attempt to solve the problems presented by the unpredictable Mustangs Saturday at Little Rock. To the victor go the spoils—a possible tie for the Southwest Conference title and a probable bowl bid.

"SMU is apt to do everything, because they have done something different defensively every game, something different on almost every down," says Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles. "Their defensive men in the front seven may line up anywhere: it's hard to tell one from the other in the film."

"They are very aggressive, and they confuse you," says Broyles. "This is what we used to do to people when we played the monster defense. That's what they've done this year."

SMU may line up with three receivers on one side of the field. The Mustangs may have only one running back, and send him in motion before the play unfolds.

"Our biggest problem is to recognize their formations and get lined up properly," he says. "You spend all week getting ready for these things, and that's what they want you to do. And they'll still catch you out of position."

Broyles' respect for SMU is matched by the praise SMU Coach Hayden Fry has for the Razorbacks.

"Arkansas has great passing and good running and is better balanced offensively than Texas, which depends largely on its running," Fry says.

SMU's attack features the nation's leading passer, Chuck Hixson, the top two receivers in the SWC, Jerry LeVias and Ken Fleming, and hard-running Mike Richardson.

Bill Montgomery, a sophomore like Hixson, directs the balanced Arkansas attack. His primary receivers have been Max Peacock and Chuck Dicus.

Bullish fullback Bruce Maxwell and tailbacks David Dickey, Bill Burnett and Russell Cody offer a variety of running styles.

The game will be telecast regionally.

Another member of Associated Press Arkansas high school top ten, fourth-ranked Little Rock Catholic, edged past Little Rock McClellan 6-0.

Sophomore quarterback Jim Doolittle scored the only touchdown from one-yard out with less than four minutes left in the fourth quarter.

Southside also clinched at least a tie for the Western Division title with the victory. Springdale can tie the Rebels with a victory tonight over Texarkana.

Fort Smith Southside knocked fifth-ranked Hot Springs from the unbeaten list and out of the Class AAA Western Division race, all in one lick Thursday night.

A 93-yard punt return by Ricky Loyd with less than two minutes left in the half was the difference in the Rebel 7-0 victory.

State Going After the Championship

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas State University takes on the University of Texas at Arlington Saturday night with the Southland Conference championship and a Pecan Bowl bid riding on the outcome.

ASU is 2-0-1 in the conference. Arlington is 2-1.

The winner is scheduled to meet North Dakota State in the Pecan Bowl Dec. 14 at Arlington.

The Indians will have to stop Arlington's Mike Baylor, who completed 21 of 35 passes for 317 yards last week. ASU must get its high-powered offense rolling again following last week's 20-9 loss to Southwestern Louisiana.

Offensive guard Manuel Montes and defensive end Mike Everett have been named co-captains for ASU.

Tech Remains in Top 10

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Arkansas Tech remains in the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics' top ten despite a 13-10 loss last week to Ouachita Baptist University.

Tech, sporting an 8-1 record, dropped from fourth to ninth. The Wonder Boys got 30 points. New Mexico Highlands continues to top the poll.

Favorites in Pro Play on Weekend

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Things ran true to form in pro football last week, with the exception of Dallas' upset by New York, but we went down picking upsets with the 49ers and Eagles.

The toughest picks appear to be Minnesota-Detroit and Los Angeles-San Francisco in the National Football League and New York-Oakland in the American Football League. We're going to stick with most of the favorites.

Last week's 9-3-1 made it 69-32-3 for the year (42-20-2 in the NFL and 27-11-1 in the AFL). Let's try again. All games are to be played Sunday.

NFL
Chicago 20, Atlanta 10—Despite loss of Gale Sayers, Bears seem to have too much for Falcons, who have been giving up almost 31 points a game.

Cleveland 30, Pittsburgh 17—Steelers always trouble for Browns but they're in no mood to be stopped now with a grasp on division lead and four-game victor streak. Browns won Oct. 5 game, 31-24.

Dallas 31, Washington 10—Only a rejuvenation of Sonny Jurgensen, who may be able to play without his protective corset, can make this close.

Minnesota 21, Detroit 14—Would like Vikings better if game not in Detroit where Lions play their best. Vikings took first game 24-10.

Los Angeles 17, San Francisco 14—Scared of this one. Los Angeles defense should do it but San Francisco should be ready for all-out effort before home folks. Rams won in Los Angeles 24-10.

Green Bay 21, New Orleans 17—It's shocking to find Packers 3-5-1 at this stage, but they can't be counted out yet. Saints' defense will pressure Bart Starr. Milwaukee site favors Green Bay, especially if the snow is flying.

New York 27, Philadelphia 17—Giants sky high after beating Dallas. Eagles booed at home and losers of nine straight, in angry mood. Everybody runs on Eagles so why not Giants? Giants won first game 34-25.

Baltimore 31, St. Louis 17—Colts appear to be steaming toward Super Bowl with fine blend of offense and solid defense. Jim Hart may be running for his life from Colt rush.

AFL
Kansas City 27, Boston 14—Pat Holmes emerging as real rookie star and Jan Stenerud still is booting those field goals. Pats without Nick Buoniconti again.

Miami 21, Cincinnati 20—Bob Griese's passing and Jim Kiick's running make up for weak defense that has allowed 29 touchdowns. Paul Robinson's running makes Bengals dangerous. Home field favors Dolphins. Miami won earlier 24-22 when Cincinnati failed on two-point conversion.

Houston 17, Denver 14—Floyd Little could make things hot for Oilers.

Oakland 24, New York 23—Could be preview of the AFL title game. Last time they met Ben Davidson fractured Joe Namath's cheekbone last December in Oakland. Raiders lead league with 30 touchdowns and jets are tops in defense.

San Diego 31, Buffalo 14—Unless Chargers spent too much time enjoying the wintry scene

Likes Porkers Over SMU by 7 Points

By HARRY KING

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — There's not the slimmest indication that Saturday's Arkansas-SMU game at Little Rock will be anything but a wide-open, high-scoring affair.

The two teams have scored 60 touchdowns a given up 47. Both teams have plenty of weapons.

SMU has four outstanding individuals on offense—quarterback Chuck Hixson, receivers Jerry Levas and Ken Fleming and running back Mike Richardson. Hixson, the nation's leading passer, has completed 209 of 368 passes for 2,439 yards and 14 touchdowns. Levas, the top pass-catcher in the country, has caught 66 for 951 yards. Fleming, the second leading receiver in the Southwest Conference, has snagged 46, including seven touchdown passes.

Richardson has gained 809 yards on 163 carries—a five-yard average—and caught 35 passes for 424 yards.

Bill Montgomery, a sophomore like Hixson, has already set an Arkansas one-season total offense record. He's passed for 1,447 yards and rushed for about 180 more. The Razorbacks may be without sophomore tailback Bill Burnett, who has an injured toe, but David Dickey and Russell Cody are available. Montgomery will be throwing primarily to Max Peacock and Chuck Dicus, who have caught 65 passes between them.

Both teams have been successful with the pass and they rank seventh and eighth in the SWC defending against the pass. Arkansas has allowed 12 touchdown passes and SMU 11.

The winner Saturday will retain at least a tie for the conference lead. The Razorbacks probably won't stop SMU, but we have a hunch they'll outscore the Mustangs.

Harriman, 77, Has Most Difficult Job

PARIS (AP) — W. Averell Harriman turned 77 today in the middle of the most difficult assignments of his career.

A few close associates planned a low-keyed observance, but for the most part it was a normal work day for the chief U.S. negotiator at the Vietnam peace talks who these days usually spends 10 or 11 hours a day on the job six days a week and drops by the office on Sunday.

Had he chosen, Harriman could have spent a life of leisure amply financed by the big fortune from his father's railroad empire. Instead he turned from a big-time business career to government service with the advent of Franklin D. Roosevelt's New Deal in 1933—and wound up with an insider's role in some of history's great dramas.

Roosevelt sent Harriman to deal with Stalin and Churchill during World War II. President Truman made him ambassador to London, Marshall Plan head in Paris, foreign aid administrator in Washington.

One of President Kennedy's assignments injected Harriman deep into the Southeast Asian problem. In 1961-2 he represented the United States at the Geneva conference which agreed on independence and neutrality for Laos.

Harriman could hardly find a more ticklish problem than he now faces from his spacious office at the U.S. Embassy alongside the Place de la Concorde.

After half a year of painstaking negotiation, he helped work out an arrangement with the North Vietnamese to broaden the talks into hard bargaining on how to end the war but ran into refusal by America's ally, South Vietnam, to come to the proposed expanded conference.

"All negotiations require determination, patience and above all attempts to understand the other fellow's point of view," Harriman said amid this state of affairs.

Harriman has faced his Hanoi opposite, Xuan Thuy, through nearly six months of weekly formal sessions and informal tea breaks plus untold secret sessions.

He has applied to this an inquiring mind and a precise memory—always a valuable asset in negotiations—which leaves some of his younger assistants in awe.

As to the future, Harriman said: "I've been too busy to make any plans except that my plans are to live in Washington with my wife."

While President-elect Richard M. Nixon has not yet announced his administration's team for the Paris talks, Harriman is considered certain to leave with the departure of the Johnson administration on Jan. 20.

Cong Moving Bike Convoy in Cambodia

NEW YORK (AP) — A National Broadcasting Co. news team says a bicycle convoy it filmed was moving supplies through Cambodia to a Viet Cong encampment in South Vietnam.

The film, shown Wednesday night on NBC's Huntley-Brinkley Report, shows the convoy carrying supplies from a Cambodian border town identified as Ba Vet to the Viet Cong stronghold, said to be less than 50 miles from Saigon.

NBC News correspondent Dean Brillis, one of the members of the team, said in narrating the film:

"As the bikes pass through the official customs barriers, they were ignored. It was as though the traffic was normal. But it was not normal. It is how the Viet Cong and the North Vietnamese keep supplied in order to fight."

"The flow of the supplies was uninterrupted and unimpeded by the barriers."

The news team said it watched the bicyclists for a full day as they delivered supplies from the Ba Vet marketplace to the Viet Cong camp.

The newsmen said that most of the riders appeared to be Cambodian, but that others were believed to be Viet Cong. The Viet Cong supervised the movements of the unloaded bicycles to the marketplaces, NBC said.

Brillis said that some of the riders wore GI clothing and that others wore the black pajamas of the Viet Cong.

Bobby Baker Asking for New Trial

WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert G. "Bobby" Baker, former secretary to Senate Democrats who was convicted of income tax evasion, is asking for a new trial because, he says, "tainted" evidence was used in his first.

In a motion filed Wednesday in U.S. District Court here, Baker claims evidence uncovered recently in the perjury case of former U.S. Gov. Clifford A. Jones of Nevada will show Baker was convicted by means of evidence that should have been suppressed.

Baker's motion contends this "tainted" evidence was given by Wayne Bromley, Washington lobbyist and lawyer who implicated Baker and Jones in a tax-evasion scheme.

Bromley used a hidden microphone to record in Los Angeles conversations with Baker and Jones, a Baker business associate, with the cooperation of the Department of Justice. Bromley told of these conversations at Baker's trial last January.

Bromley was scheduled to testify about these same conversations in Jones' forthcoming trial but the testimony has been ruled "tainted" and ordered suppressed by District Judge Gerhard A. Cressell.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Remember struggling with high school French and wishing that languages would come to you more easily? One man to whom languages came naturally was Cardinal Giuseppe Caspar Mezzofanti (1774-1849), chief keeper of the Vatican Library. The World Almanac says he could speak 60 languages fluently and translate 114 languages and 72 dialects, greatest linguistic achievement on record.

Opening lead—♦ Q

The late Walter Malowan of New York was famous for his no-trump bidding. He bid more no-trumps than anyone and although he was set many times, he also made a lot of games that other players missed.

South's three no-trump call could almost be taken right out of Malowan's book. South could be sure of eight tricks with a diamond lead and decided to bid three no-trump rather than four spades.

There was an additional reason for his apparent madness. He was vulnerable and his opponents weren't. He could visualize a possible sacrifice against four spades and felt that no one would sacrifice against three no-trump.

When West doubled South decided to stand by his guns. He felt that he would also be doubled at four spades and that he would not make that contract any easier than he could make three no-trump.

When West opened the queen of clubs South wished he had run to four spades, or had merely bid two spades and stopped. Then he looked at dummy and things appeared far better. The king-10-small of clubs represented a stopper in this suit, the king-queen of hearts took care of any danger there. He could see the sun shining brightly and hear the birds twittering in the treetops.

He played dummy's king. East took his ace and returned the suit to West's jack. A third club went to dummy's 10 and South ran off his eight spade tricks and conceded the last two.

A diamond opening lead would have beaten him but there would have been no way for him to bring home 10 tricks at spades.

★CARD Sense★

Q—The bidding has been: West North East South 1 ♣ Pass 2 ♣ Pass 3 ♣ Pass ? You, South, hold: ♠ Q 10 8 5 4 ♥ A 10 ♦ 5 3 ♣ 7 6 5 4

What do you do now? A—Bid four clubs. You would like to bid three hearts to see if your partner can try three no-trumps but you are too likely to get way too high with this heart bid.

QUICK QUIZ

Q—What American city is humorously nicknamed "Father Knickerbocker"?
A—New York City. The term comes from Washington Irving's book, "Knickerbocker's History of New York."
Q—Where was the first railroad bridge over the Mississippi River constructed?
A—On April 21, 1857. The bridge ran between Rock Island, Ill., and Davenport, Iowa.

...More on the Golden Rule. How big is it? What will it do for a man? Just how far does it reach? Well, all major religions support it, and all ethical teachers of the ages confirm it. But Mr., it is a personal thing and consequently, it is only as big as you. Are you a good citizen, a good neighbor, a good American, a good Christian? These questions are asked with my own happiness and welfare in mind. You will treat me as you treat all others. Your character reflects your opinion of the Golden Rule. The title words, "Have Them," narrows our thinking but at the same time calls us to universal interest. Why should men stop to minister to others, especially, if I am one of them? A thorough, personal appreciation of the Golden Rule, will make of you a man fit to die, and will reward you with all that is eternal.

More on the Golden Rule next week.

You In The Church
The Church In You
— form a combination for good. Every man, woman and child needs the influence of the church. So, come let us go into the house of the Lord. Let us support her program of service to humanity, be a faithful worker, a daily bible reader and attend services regularly.

Community-minded sponsors listed below urge you to go to church - give your soul - smothered by many worldly interests - a chance to breathe.

Bishops Battle May Prevent Fast Decision

By JAMES R. POLK
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) - A fierce battle among America's Roman Catholic bishops has raised doubts they can reach quick consensus on birth control and issue a pastoral letter to guide their troubled church.

The proposed wording of a letter brought before a closed meeting of the National Conference of Catholic Bishops drew such fire Wednesday that it forced a night-long rewriting session.

The dispute raised some doubt whether the bishops would be able to shape a stand on either the birth control controversy or the morality of the war on Vietnam before their windup Friday.

The bishops took a preliminary sounding on the pastoral statement in a test vote kept so secret not even the church leaders were told how it came out.

But the result was obvious when a special seven-man panel molding the birth control statement went into a long after-hours meeting to try to revise the pastoral letter.

The dispute pivots on whether Pope Paul VI's encyclical banning artificial birth control can be interpreted to allow married couples to make exceptions if their consciences find it necessary.

One bishop at the rewriting session argued flatly that married couples are greater experts on marriage than the Pope.

The bishops stripped off their clerical collars as they grappled page by page with the sensitive statement. By the time they reached the bottom of the 13th page, only three pages had been agreed upon in final form.

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) - A flight to less than 10 miles above the moon's surface will be undertaken next year by a crew of space veterans, officials disclosed Wednesday.

This Apollo 10 flight will include separation in lunar orbit of the U.S. moon lander and a descent to within 50,000 feet of the moon's surface. Officials have said privately the flight plans possibly could be changed later to a lunar landing.

Crewmen will be Air Force Col. Thomas P. Stafford, the commander; Navy Cmdr. Eugene A. Cernan, lunar module pilot, and Navy Cmdr. John W. Young, the command module pilot.

Stafford and Cernan will transfer to the lunar module and separate it from the command module, leaving Young to pilot the command module in moon orbit. Stafford and Cernan will fly the lunar module to within 50,000 feet of the lunar surface.

Then they'll rendezvous with the command module, rejoin Young on board, separate from the lunar module and return to earth.

Apollo 8, scheduled in September, will orbit the moon 16 times at an altitude of 68 miles.

Operation M Picks Up Steam

DETROIT (AP) - Operation M day is gathering steam in Detroit.

The "M" stands for move and the goal is to find suburban housing for 200 black families within a year.

Seeking to break down suburban barriers between Negro families and available housing, an alliance was formed between black real estate brokers and the Northwest Community Organization, which is financed by the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of Detroit.

Supported by Michigan's open housing law, which becomes effective Friday, the project has the support of several suburban human relations councils.

Court to Hear Suit Involving Delegates

LITTLE ROCK (AP) - A state Supreme Court justice today ordered the Pulaski County Election Commission not to certify the county's election results in the constitutional convention delegate races.

Justice George Rose Smith issued the injunction, which he said would remain in effect until the court gives the commission further notice.

The order also says the election commission cannot take any further action regarding a runoff election set for next Tuesday in those delegate positions where no candidate got a majority in the Nov. 5 general election.

The Supreme Court has a hearing set for 11 a.m. Friday on a suit challenging the results of the general election vote on the races.

Circuit Court Judge Warren E. Wood of Little Rock ruled Wednesday in the case that he had no authority to order a new election, as had been requested by the 13 plaintiffs.

The plaintiffs were listed on the bottom of the Pulaski County voting machine list of races. All lost. Their opponents were listed at the top of the list.

Henry Woods, an attorney and one of the plaintiffs, appealed Wood's ruling to the Supreme Court.

Jap Immigrant Is Re-learning Japanese

NEW ROCHELLE, N.Y. (AP) — When 10-year-old Yoko Tatum came to this country from Japan two years ago, she didn't speak a word of English. Today, her English is fine, but she has to go to school to re-learn Japanese.

Yokons one of more than 500 Japanese children in the metropolitan area who attend special classes once a week to make sure they do not completely forget their native language.

The classes, which began five years ago in Manhattan and spread to surrounding cities with substantial Japanese communities, were set up by the Manhattan Nippon Club in response to requests by Japanese families.

Yoko, who is in the fifth grade, attends class every Saturday at the Roosevelt School here along with 53 other children. She began studying about a year ago.

"It's kind of fun," she said Wednesday, "but I don't like it so much because it's on Sunday."

Asked if she found Japanese more difficult than English, she said, "Yes, it's harder."

Yoko's father, Toshikazu, who works for the Toho Menka Trading Co. of Japan, said he and his wife, both of whom learned English in school at home, encouraged their daughter to learn the new language when she first arrived in the United States.

"She picked it up very quickly," he said, "in about six months."

In the same time, however, he added, Yoko had forgotten her Japanese.

Mars Orbit Is Planned During 1971

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Scientists plan to send two Mariner spacecraft into orbit around Mars in 1971 to take a close look at its mysterious surface for an unmanned landing two years later.

Jet Propulsion Laboratory, in charge of the flights for the U.S. government, said Wednesday the 1,000-pound Mariners will be launched about a month apart during May and June. Plans call for them to reach Mars after six months, swoop to within 1,000 miles of the surface, collect photographs and data and remain in orbit indefinitely.

One Mariner is to orbit at an angle of about 60 degrees to Mars' Equator, scanning 70 percent of the planet's surface. The second, in a near polar orbit, is to examine the white polar caps and possibly Mars' moons, Phobos and Deimos.

Money Going Out of Style in Cuba

By FENTON WHEELER
Associated Press Writer
HAVANA (AP) — Money is going out of style in Cuba, but it's not worthless yet.

Most Cubans, including those in government ministries, still work for money but their dependence on it is decreasing as Prime Minister Fidel Castro turns the domestic economy toward what he describes as a genuine Communist system.

Castro's idea is that eventually the state will supply all the necessities of life to its workers. His government has made a small start on the plan, in some agricultural sectors workers now receive free food, lodging and work clothes in addition to the free medical and educational services available to the rest of the population.

Castro's campaign against what he considers evil capitalist incentives coincides with the economic realities: There is just not much to buy.

With little on the shelves and no advertising, there is little incentive or desire to earn extra pay. Paradoxically, those who still have bankrolls are about the only ones who can find a little relief from the present drabness. This is done by patronizing the dwindling black market or simply by hiring someone to do the work, such as standing in line for a turn at a seat in a restaurant.

For many Cubans salary is far less important than it was. "I would work for nothing," says a 20-year-old mother putting in a 48-hour week as a grapefruit packer on the Isle of Pines, the place Castro has picked to establish Cuba's first 100 per cent Communist society. "The only thing I need money for is for personal things," she adds.

Her pay is $75 monthly plus food, clothing and housing. Her daughter attends one of the government's free nursery schools while she works. A divorcee, she finds plenty of young eligible men working and thinking as she does. Communism by her definition means "packing grapefruit better."

A construction foreman who earns $180 monthly says the only reason he still has an interest in money is to save for a record player. He, too, receives food, lodging and work clothes plus a week's vacation every 75 days.

His life, however, is not so simple as it sounds. His evenings are taken up with "revolutionary" obligations and study. He usually sees his wife, who works in a nearby office, only for one hour a day, normally after 11 p.m. when he finishes his extra duties and before he returns to his separate quarters. Except for civil defense duties, his weekends are free. But hard times and shortages limit him to four beers per weekend and make it difficult to eat away from the workers' dining room.

The country's food shortage plays an unofficial role in diminishing the value of money.

"It is better to work on a state farm for $85 monthly and get three meals a day than battle the lines and ration books for a $200 a-month office job," for any young construction worker.

The Communist party asserts overtime pay and tipping are nonrevolutionary in modern Cuba. It has pretty well eliminated both.

Screen Idol Left Estate of $500,000

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Silent screen idol Ramon Novarro, beaten to death at his home, left an estate estimated at more than $500,000.

The 69-year-old actor's will, filed for probate in Superior Court Wednesday, left the bulk of the estate in trust for four sisters, three brothers, and his secretary, Edward J. Weber.

The will also provides for small bequests to several Roman Catholic churches and convents in the United States and Mexico.

The actor's personal effects were left to 21 friends, including Alice Terry, a silent film star who had played opposite Novarro.

Novarro was killed Oct. 31 in his Hollywood Hills home. Two men have been arrested in connection with the slaying.

Republicans Trying to Unite Party

WASHINGTON (AP) — Conservative leaders of the Senate GOP bloc are considering giving a top post to a liberal Republican colleague, hoping for party unity at the outset of the Nixon administration.

Likely beneficiary of such a move would be Pennsylvania's Hugh Scott who could take over chairmanship of the Senate Republican Policy Committee.

Scott, who supported the unsuccessful bid of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller for the GOP presidential nomination, would succeed retiring Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper of Iowa, a conservative.

This presumably would eliminate Scott as a contender for the job of minority whip, or assistant leader. It is being sought actively by Nebraska's conservative Roman L. Hruska.

Hruska would fill the leadership vacancy left by the primary defeat of Thomas H. Kuchel of California, a liberal.

Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen favors adding a liberal to prevent a party-splitting fight at the start of Richard M. Nixon's administration.

Dirksen's commanding position as leader of the minority forces was strengthened by his re-election to a fourth term.

The installation of Hruska as Dirksen's assistant would put a conservative team in control of the minority.

By the minority's rules, California's George Murphy must give up his chairmanship of the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee. This will strip the leadership of any Far West representation.

Republicans like to parcel out their jobs on a geographical basis where possible and there have been some suggestions that Barry Goldwater of Arizona be installed in the campaign post. He filled it for four years previously.

But indications are that Goldwater, who left the Senate to run for president in 1964, will have to start at the bottom again in committee assignments.

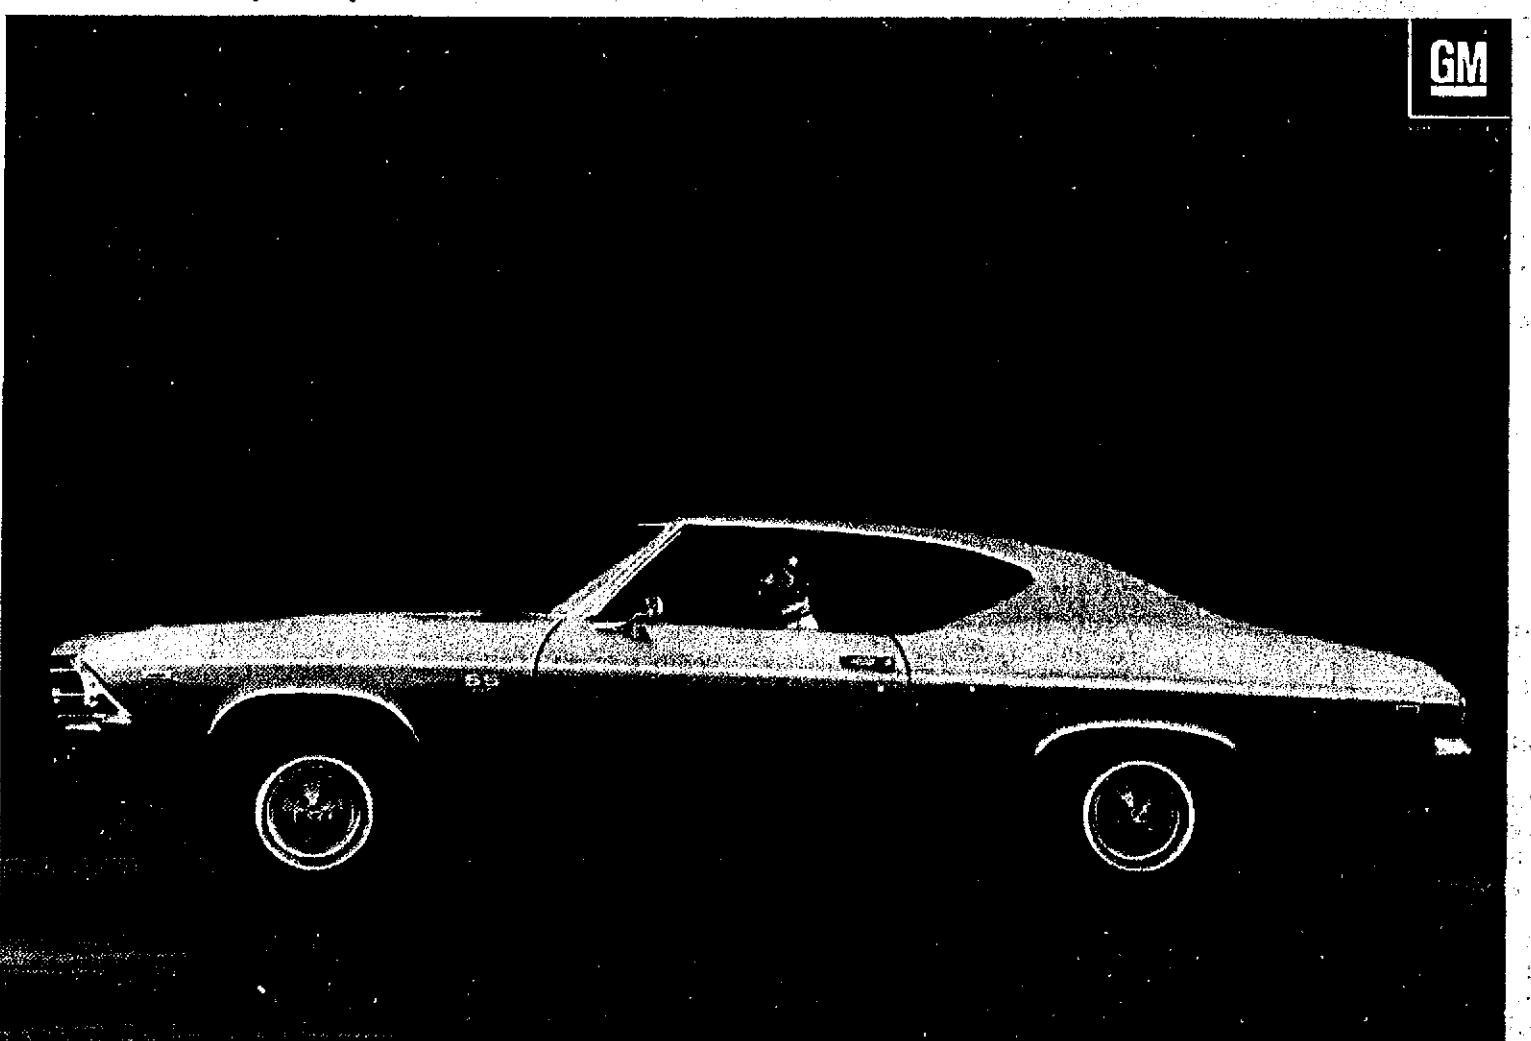

Pasadena Girl Rose Bowl Choice

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Pamela Ann Anichich, blue-eyed freshman at Pasadena City College, was selected Wednesday as queen of the 1969 Tournament of Roses.

Miss Anichich, 18, has light brown hair, is 5-8 and weighs 129 pounds. She wants to be an elementary school teacher and enjoys volleyball, tennis, ice skating and football.

She will be crowned Dec. 5 and ride in the 80th annual Tournament of Roses parade Jan. 1.

Arabs Plead Innocent to Slaying Plot

NEW YORK (AP) — Three Yemeni Arabs, a father and his two sons, have pleaded innocent to a charge of conspiring to assassinate President-elect Richard M. Nixon.

Ahmed Rageh Namer, 43, and his sons, Hussein, 20, and Abdo, 19, were indicted Wednesday by a Brooklyn grand jury before being brought into Brooklyn Supreme Court for a hearing.

Justice John R. Starkey reduced bail from $100,000 to $25,000 each, but the lower bond was not posted. No trial date was set.

Defense counsel asked lower bail on grounds that the defendants had no criminal records and had been steadily employed in Manhattan's garment district.

The grand jury handed up indictments on four counts: conspiracy to kill Nixon, criminal solicitation of an unidentified person to commit the crime, possession of two rifles, and possession of switchblade knives.

If convicted, each of the trio faces a maximum of 23 years in prison.

Rail Line Complimented by Hoboes

WAYCROSS, Ga. (AP) — The Seaboard Coast Line railroad has drawn a compliment from two of its recent passengers.

"We always use the SCL," the two hoboes were quoted by policeman T. G. Sanford after they were booked on vagrancy charges.

Sanford said they told him they had boarded a freight train at Montgomery, Ala., praised the roadways they traversed and described the SCL as "fast and dependable."

The pair was headed for Florida to work in the citrus groves.

The HL10 descended to 35,000 feet, then climbed to 43,250 feet as Manke, on his 37th birthday, fired two of four chambers of an 8,000-pound thrust rocket engine.

Six minutes after being released from the mother ship and attaining a 610 mile an hour maximum speed, the HL10 was back down skimming across the baked lake bed at 200 m.p.h.

Eventual tests call for speeds of more than 1,000 m.p.h. and altitudes up to 80,000 feet. Engineers hope to demonstrate the HL10's ability to ride into orbit, ferry as many as a dozen astronauts between space stations, and return to earth with the gliding range and maneuverability to give the pilot a choice of landing sites over several thousand miles.

Wins Title and Promptly Faints

LONDON (AP) — Blonde Penelope Plummer, Miss Australia, won the title of Miss World Tuesday—then fainted.

After being revived the 18-year-old Miss telephoned her mother in Sydney and said: "I've got a cold. My nose is running, but I still did it. I feel marvelous. I can't believe it."

Miss World measures 35-34-35 and weighs 133 pounds. She works as a librarian, rides a motorcycle, and does part-time modeling.

Her first prize is $6,000, but fees for personal appearances and endorsements could boost the winnings to more than $70,000.

Traditional Balls for Inauguration

WASHINGTON (AP) Richard M. Nixon's inauguration ceremonies will include the traditional inaugural balls and a shortened parade keyed to the theme: "Bring Us Together."

Nixon advisers had been quoted as saying a "subdued" inauguration Day was under consideration in view of the Vietnam War.

But J. Willard Marriott, chairman of the 1969 Inaugural Committee, said today in a prepared statement that there will be five—possibly six—inaugural balls and a two-hour parade with bands and floats.

Nixon believes the inauguration "is a national occasion in which all the people should have the opportunity to see and participate," Marriott said.

President Johnson trimmed the inauguration parade to three hours in 1965 and banished military hardware. He held five inaugural balls.

From 1945, when President Roosevelt was sworn in during austere ceremonies at the White House, until Johnson shortened the parade, the bands, floats and horses had taken five hours or more to pass the reviewing stand.

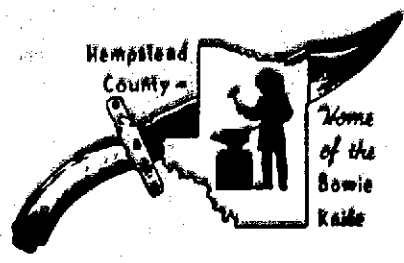

President Kennedy's inauguration parade lasted over an hour after sundown.

Nixon coined the "Bring Us Together" motto in his first press conference after his election. He said he "borrowed" it from a sign carried by a young girl during a campaign appearance in Deshler, Ohio.

A departure from past years is the decision not to use the cavernous D.C. Armory for an inaugural ball. All five balls scheduled so far will be held in hotels.

Marriott said, "We will ask each state to be represented by a marching band of their choice and state float somewhat similar to the approach used by the Rose Bowl operation."

A Thought for a Rainy Day

It's pouring like an all-day rain as I write this, which reminds me of the two-faced nature of water in the world of men.

Water is one of life's essentials — also one of its troublemakers. In a drought you pray for it — but let it rain for a month and you feel the menace of flood.

Water is man's commonest cleansing agent — but nothing's dirtier or more contaminating than a flood.

It's all a matter of how to handle it — and the handling of water poses some classic problems. Nature takes care of the water problem fairly well in its own way — but when Man diverts water to his own purposes, he invites upon himself trouble that Nature never knew.

When our neighbor the First National Bank began constructing a fine outdoor public fountain I suggested that it spelled trouble. Not that I was being pessimistic — I was speaking from both observation and personal experience.

The fountain was completed and put into 24-hour operation — a beautiful sight. But after a couple of nights the fountain quit.

Some practical joker had in the dark and unguarded hours dumped a package of detergent in the pool, soap bubbles broke the vacuum, the pump couldn't pick up the water — and the fountain was "out."

That's one I didn't know about — the hazard of detergents.

But I knew about the other hazards. I love waterfalls, and some years ago decided to build one on the "back 40" behind my house where I keep some wild-life. I did so although I recognized the fact that while many artificial fountains are built they call for a lot of maintenance — and some are finally abandoned by owners less than stout-hearted.

So I learned about waterfalls. But I am an obstinate person — and my waterfall is still operating. But at a price.

First it developed that the one-half horsepower pump wasn't enough. The waterfall lacked a great deal of looking like Niagara. So I installed a one-horsepower pump — and got results.

Originally I had planned to put fish in the pool. But then I changed my mind and switched to Mallards and Canada Geese. The poultry did all right — but not the waterfall.

Ducks and geese moult. I had to install a system of screens to keep the pump from becoming clogged. Even with screens I had to drain and clean the pool four times a year.

About a month ago Gene White telephoned me from the Water & Light Plant to ask whether by any chance the electric meter on the "back 40" had broken down. He said it had registered zero for the past 30 days.

I said, No, the meter was O.K. — it was the waterfall that broke down. A seal failed in the submerged pump and the motor burned out. But this had been repaired, I told Gene, the waterfall was going back into operation after a month-long dry spell, and if he'd just keep his shirt on he'd find the electric meter working shortly.

My reward: The first day the pool was full and the waterfall churning away I finished my inspection, turned my back on the poultry and started for the house — and one of my ganders sneaked up behind me and bit me.

He was trying to tell me something — whether expressing irritation or gratitude, I don't know.

Body of Man Identified

WALDRON, Ark. (AP) — Sheriff Clyde Hawkins of Scott County said Thursday that a body discovered last week at a roadside park near Waldron had been identified as that of Edward Joseph Wright, 60, of Palm Springs, Calif.

Hawkins said Wright had apparently been murdered. He said a motorist found the body.

Nixon to Be in on Fgn. Policy Moves

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson made it clear today that he will "make whatever decisions the President of the United States is called on to make between now and Jan. 20" when President-elect Richard M. Nixon takes office.

Johnson said that after Jan. 20, he hopes Nixon "can speak not only for his administration but for all the American people" and Johnson said he would work to help Nixon in that.

NEW YORK (AP) — President-elect Richard M. Nixon expressed to the leaders of the Soviet Union today the expectation that "great strides can be taken in the years just ahead" toward genuine peace and security.

Nixon made that statement in a telegram to Nikolai V. Podgorny, chairman of the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet. It was in response to a telegram of congratulations from the Soviet leader.

NEW YORK (AP) — President-elect Richard M. Nixon, confident that President Johnson will undertake no foreign policy initiative without his concurrence, is sending a veteran diplomatic troubleshooter to the State Department as the voice of his new administration.

Nixon said that retired diplomat, Robert D. Murphy, will oversee foreign policy matters during the period of government transition in an agreement by which Johnson will consult with his Republican successor before acting abroad.

Murphy will take his new post as soon as possible, perhaps within the next few days.

See NIXON TO After 40 You Start Asking, "Just When Does the Fun Begin"

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Soon after a man passes his 40th birthday he begins asking himself wryly, "When does the fun begin?"

He feels afflicted with antiquity and premature enfeeblement. Like most people, he tends to regard middle age as a punishment or a plight rather than as a normal condition and part of a well-lived life.

But middle age, like any other period of existence, has its peculiar rewards as well as its perils.

"What rewards could middle age possibly offer?" asks the skeptic.

Well, for example: Your feet feel so much better when you take your shoes off at the end of the day.

Yawning becomes one of your favorite forms of exercise. It is no longer necessary for you to break your bones skiing or playing tough football.

Your wife has probably obligingly quit bearing infants and you don't have to subsidize a diaper laundry. You can use the money thus saved to get your

Having Oil Well in Back Yard Proved to Be Big Headache

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Imagine the delight of Bernard Weinsieder and his family when oil bubbled up through a crack in their backyard patio a few weeks ago.

Weinsieder's son Jules, 22, said, "We thought we had it made."

But so far it has cost more than $3,000, wrecked the family patio, driven some neighbors away, and landed them in court. The family followed the seepage to a storage cellar where they found a pool of crude oil. It turned out this came from a well drilled in 1911 and abandoned in 1924.

The first sign of disaster came when they called realtors to find out how much the oil was worth.

"They all said they were committed to certain companies, that we were independent operators and they couldn't buy from us," said Richard Weinsieder, a 17-year-old son.

A petroleum geologist checked the well and said he doubted whether it would ever pay to try to make it productive again.

Weinsieder, the elder, a bread salesman, had to pay $2 a barrel to have the celer pumped out and 150 barrels of oil trucked away.

Then as the oil kept coming, the family paid $2,500 to a drilling company to dig a hole in the

U.S. Charge Is Called Smokescreen

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH
Associated Press Writer
PARIS (AP) — North Vietnam said today American charges of violations of the demilitarized zone are a "smokescreen intended to camouflage the intensification of the American aggressive war in South Vietnam and illegal American reconnaissance flights over North Vietnam."

Nguyen Thanh Le, chief spokesman of Hanoi's delegation at the Paris peace talks, told a news conference that, in any case, the United States halted the bombing of North Vietnam "unconditionally" and therefore had no cause "to make a great fuss over the alleged bombardment from the demilitarized zone."

Le referred to a statement issued by the State Department Wednesday which said the United States takes "a serious view" of verified instances in which North Vietnamese artillery fired on allied forces in South Vietnam from positions inside the demilitarized zone since Nov. 9.

The U.S. government has avoided any assertion that North Vietnam accepted formal commitments in return for President Johnson's Oct. 31 bombing halt. Nonetheless, in the American view, Hanoi tacitly acknowledged an understanding to respect the demilitarized zone and refrain from indiscriminate attacks on major South Vietnamese cities.

Le called his news conference mainly to read a long statement assailing the Saigon government for its refusal to come to the peace talks as long as the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front was represented by an independent delegation.

He reiterated that Hanoi holds the United States alone responsible for the failure to get the talks under way and declared: "The Saigon puppet regime owes its creation and its existence to the neocolonialists of the United States. It lives under American protection and thanks to American dollars. It wants to prolong its own existence and fill its own pockets. That is why it continues to issue grotesque declarations and terrorizes and oppresses the population of Saigon and other areas of South Vietnam temporarily under its control."

Jury Probe in Bankruptcy Continues

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — The U.S. Grand Jury, empaneled Tuesday by Federal Judge Oren Harris of El Dorado to investigate possible criminal activity in the transactions of bankrupt Arkansas Loan and Thrift Corp., continued its investigation Thursday.

The 23-member jury called several witnesses including J. H. Cottrell Jr. of Little Rock, former speaker of the Arkansas House. Cottrell said he sold a Little Rock investment firm he owned to the AL&T for $75,000.

Earlier in the week, Federal Judge John E. Miller refused to grant a motion by officials of the firm that they be allowed to join in the collection of debts to the corporation.

Those were the two biggest issues that were closely contested in the unofficial returns from the election.

Advance Consultation Between Nixon, LBJ Breaks New Ground

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson and Richard M. Nixon are breaking historic new ground with their agreement for advance consultation on any major foreign policy moves before Nixon's Jan. 20 inauguration.

They probably will have to decide as they go along exactly how the arrangement will work. Nixon's designation of veteran diplomat Robert D. Murphy as his personal representative in the foreign affairs field is expected to make the arrangement smooth and efficient.

Nixon told a news conference Monday, after a meeting with President Johnson, that the present administration can speak in the next two months on

See ADVANCE (on page two) NATO Warns Russia of Retaliation

By CARL HARTMAN

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — Leaders of the Western alliance joined today in castigating the Soviet occupation of Czechoslovakia. Some demanded a stern warning to Moscow that the allies would act against any new military thrusts in Europe.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, British Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart and Foreign Minister Willy Brandt of West Germany were strong in their condemnation of the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia in August.

They told ministers of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization the Soviet move had upset the East-West balance of power.

Stewart, the first to speak at the meeting, demanded a clear signal to the Russians against further military action in Europe.

Neither Rusk nor Brandt, however, appeared to back such strong action.

Rusk, making his last appearance in NATO councils before the Republican administration takes over in January, issued an invitation in the name of President Johnson and President-elect Richard M. Nixon to the NATO partners to hold the alliance's 20th birthday meeting in Washington next spring.

The secretary left open whether this should be a summit meeting as requested by some delegates or at the normal level of foreign ministers.

Signs Show Thieu Will End Boycott

By GEORGE MCARTHUR
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — President Nguyen Van Thieu was reported edging toward attending the Paris peace talks today provided Washington assures him that no coalition government with the Communists will be thrust upon him.

As part of the price for abandoning his boycott of the talks, Thieu is also reported to be seeking other unspecified promises from President Johnson.

While the United States is favorably disposed to meet Thieu's wishes, diplomatic sources cautioned that there are other complications which could slow any final settlement.

Reliable officials in Saigon feel the break — if it comes — may take as much as two more weeks and will be coupled with changes within the South Vietnamese Cabinet.

It was reported by authoritative sources — and officially denied — that Premier Tran Van Huong had submitted his resignation to Thieu.

On the military front, the U.S. Command accused North Vietnam of violating a mutual agreement to keep the demilitarized zone free of military activity and sent American bombers streaking over the zone to attack bunkers and ammunition stores. A spokesman said 34 North Vietnamese soldiers were killed and at least a dozen bunkers were destroyed in the southern half of the DMZ.

Huong's resignation was submitted as a result of differences arising partly from the stalemate peace talks, the sources said. It was part of an over-all Cabinet crisis which could result in Huong's return to office as head of a stronger government or his departure from Thieu's regime.

Information Minister Ton That Thien, asked about the report of Huong's resignation, said the premier had been informed, "laughed and termed it not accurate." However, Thien would not elaborate and declined to comment further when asked if the report was true.

Other sources in the government said a Cabinet shakeup had been under consideration for several days and some kind of official action was imminent.

Just what shift in the South Vietnamese boycott of the Paris talks was likely was not known, and government sources would make no official comment. But other sources close to the government said if a stronger Cabinet emerged and the Thieu regime thus felt more secure, the president might not feel it so necessary that his delegation outrank that of the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front at the Paris talks.

Huong submitted his resignation Thursday, but by Friday afternoon Thieu reportedly had not decided whether to accept it. The president was reported considering a major Cabinet reshuffle, including the foreign and information ministries.

The premier, who wields little political power under South Vietnam's constitution, was reported dissatisfied with the slow progress of his campaign against corruption and interference by the military in Cabinet affairs.

40 Per Cent Chance of Rain for Game

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The rain came pouring down at Little Rock today, but the playing field at War Memorial Stadium was covered to protect it for Saturday's Arkansas-Southern Methodist football game.

Each team has a 4-1 record in Southwest Conference play and is tied with Texas and Texas Tech for the conference lead.

A spokesman at the stadium said the field got no rain Thursday night, that the cover was on before the rain began today, and that the field apparently will remain covered until shortly before game time, which is 1:05 p.m.

The forecast for Saturday calls for a 40 per cent chance of rain in the Little Rock area.
